

LUXURY HOLIDAY HOME OF THE YEAR

Norfolk House

HUDDERSFIELD

Ultimate Yorkshire getaway, Norfolk House, wants to be clear: it is not a staycation, it's a secret escape specifically designed for sumptuous celebrations, decadence and together time. The luxury accommodation is a Grade II listed Georgian mansion house located near the Peak District, perfectly placed in the heart of Yorkshire to explore God's Own Country. The opulent homestay is set over four beautifully appointed floors and has been lovingly restored by the owners; interior designer Charlotte Hughes and her musical maverick husband Darren. Between them they have attentively preserved the original features and decorated the entire space with immaculate attention to detail.

With fantastic rail and road links to Leeds and Manchester, a leisurely shopping trip or rambunctious night out on the town is only a short trip away, but you should definitely consider staying in for special celebrations. Gatherings organised at Norfolk House can be self-catered or you can take advantage of the private chef option. The house offers all the creature comforts you would expect as well as a few unexpected extras such as a private rooftop garden, The White Room, which comes complete with cocktail bar, karaoke, disco lights and a vintage record player, and a drawing room with pool table and vast selection of board games.
